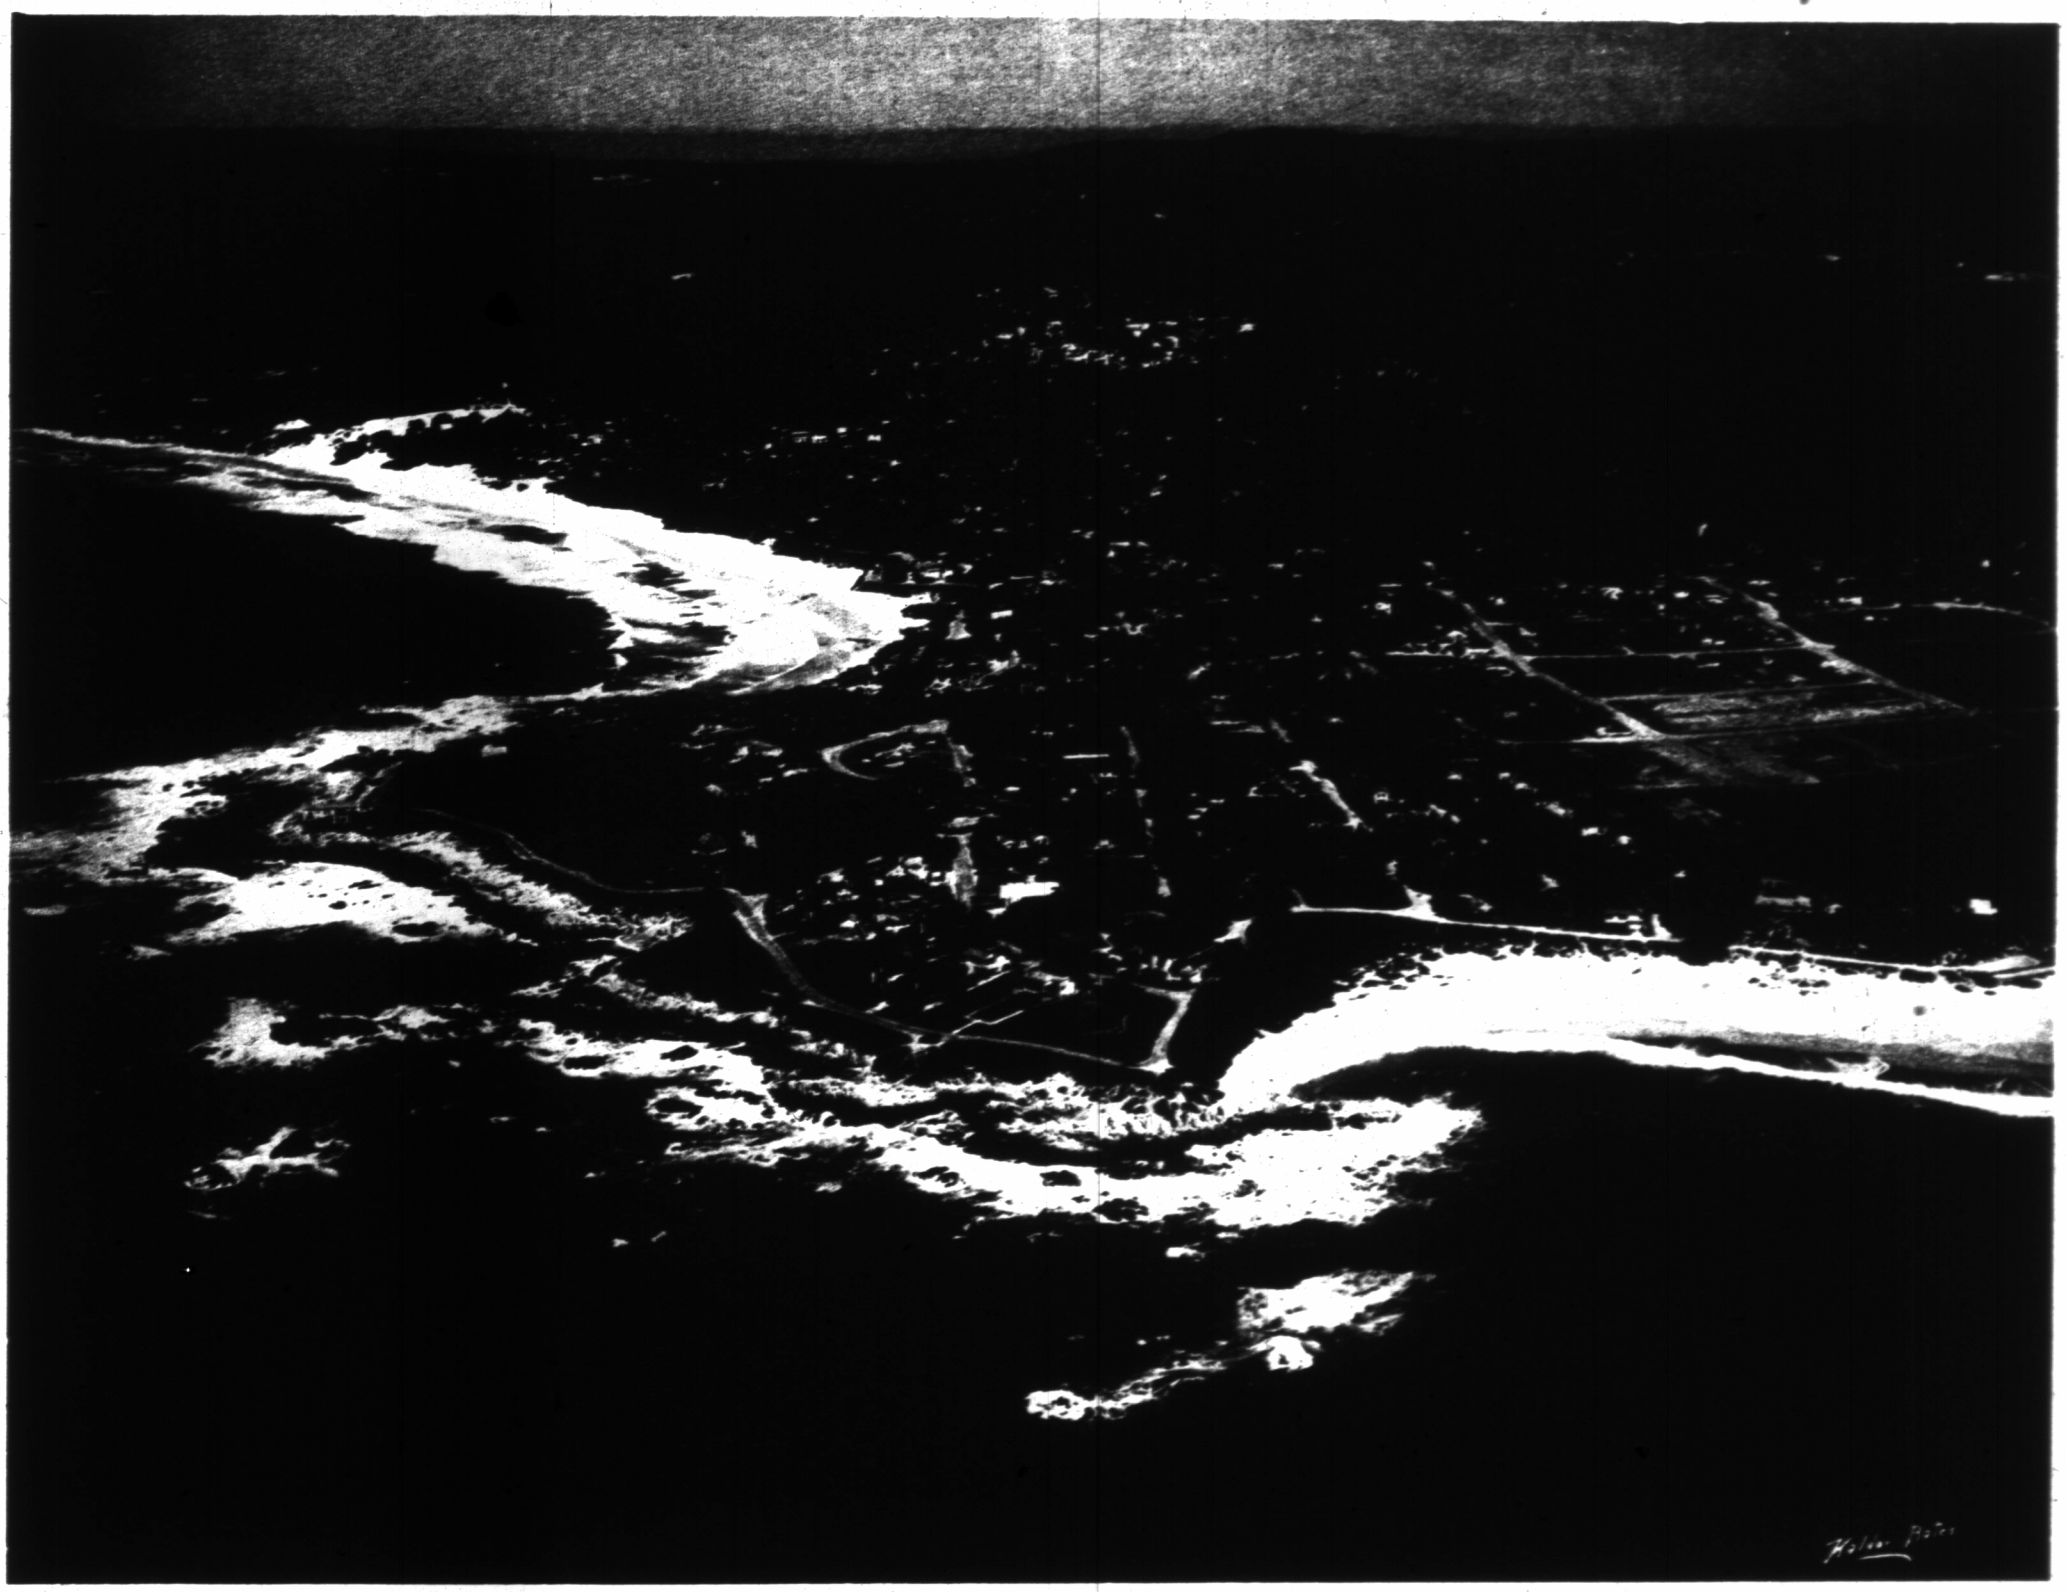
THE CARMEL SPECTATOR

VOL 1 NO. 33 THURSDAY JUNE 2, 1949 10¢

Carmel, By The Sea



THE ABOVE AERIAL PHOTOGRAPH OF CARMEL WILL NOT ONLY GIVE VISITORS A CLEAR IDEA OF THE GENERAL TOPOGRAPHY, BUT MAY BE ENLIGHTENING TO RESIDENTS WHO HAVE NEVER HAD A SEAGULL VIEW OF THEIR OWN CITY AND ITS ENVIRONS. INSPIRATION POINT IS SEEN IN THE FOREGROUND, WHILE CARMEL BAY WITH ITS WHITE SAND BEACH EXTENDS AROUND TO THE LEFT. THE CITY OF CARMEL IS IN THE TOP CENTER OF THE PICTURE, AND THE MISSION TRACT LIES IN THE FIELDS AT RIGHT. FOR THOSE WHO ARE THINKING OF GETTING OUT MAGNIFYING GLASSES TO SEE IF THEY CAN SPOT THEMSELVES SUNNING IN THEIR BACKYARDS - WELL, FORGET ABOUT IT. IN MOST CASES, YOU CAN'T SEE THE HOUSES FOR THE TREES.

POSTCARD POLL - CARMEL UNINCORPORATED

Approximately 500 members of Carmel Unincorporated this week will receive post cards from the association's zoning committee asking them if they favor any further commercial zoning at the entrance to Carmel Valley.

A compromise measure by which the group would okay C-1 zoning in a 100 foot strip of the Hatton estate across from the "triangle" at the beginning of the Valley was approved by 40 members who attended the last meeting, as noted in the May 19 issue of the SPECTATOR. But the zoning committee sent out post cards this week to secure a more representative poll.

Briefly, the Post card asks each member to check "yes" or "no" as to whether he favors any further commercial zoning at the contested intersection. If the answer is "yes" when a count is made, the holder of the post card has been requested to indicate whether he "favors the best compromise your zoning committee can arrange." It is expected the compromise would be the one approved at the group's last meeting, as proposed by Edward Cochrane. The results of the post card poll will be taken before the County Planning Commission on Tuesday.

Musical Art Club Recital This Evening

The Musical Art Club will present a group of talented young artists of the Monterey Peninsula in a recital at the Carmel Women's Club tonight at 8:15. The program will be open to members of the club, their guests bringing signed guest cards, and friends of the artists. The artists have been chosen with care on the basis of auditions held by the program committee, and represent talented young musicians and dancers of this area who are ready to be heard in public recital. The program will be made up of a vocalist Amy Mauzey, a pianist, June Kocher, a woodwind trio, Patricia Timbers, Hilary Carnson, and Sue McCloud, a violinist, June Canoles and two dancers, Ladisla Narvaez and Patty Ramsey.

Miss Amy Mauzey, the vocalist, is fifteen and a freshman at Monterey High School. She is a member of the Girls' Glee Club there and has been featured as soloist many times with that group. In the recent San Jose music festival she received the rating of " excellent."

Miss June Kocher, elder daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kocher, is to be the pianist. She is seventeen and a senior at Carmel High School. She is now studying at San Francisco Conservatory of Music and was a pupil of Mary Knight.

Also from Carmel High School come the members of the woodwind trio; Patricia Timbers, who plays the flute is a senior; Hilary Carnson who is also a senior, plays the bassoon; and Sue McCloud, a freshman, will play the clarinet.

The violinist to be presented is June Canoles, nineteen, daughter of June Delight. She is a former pupil of Mildred Wright of Carmel, studied four years with Alberta Metcalf and is now a pupil of Sister Loyola Marie at Belmont College where she is enrolled. She has recently appeared in a concert there.

Ladisla Narvaez, nineteen, who attended Sunset School and graduated from Monterey High has been studying with Alisa Cansino in San Francisco and has also attended the San Francisco Ballet School. She is a former pupil of June Delight and has been teaching dancing in Carmel Valley.

Miss Patty Ramsey is the sixteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Ramsey of Pacific Grove. She is finishing her sophomore year at Pacific Grove High School and has been studying for a year and a half with Dorothy Dean since she arrived here from out of state.

The program will be as follows: " The Little Shephard's Song" by Watts; " A Spirit Flower" by Campbell-Tipton; Amy Mauzey, vocalist.

" French Suite, No. 6 in E Major" by Bach; a Chopin waltz; June Kocher, pianist.

" Gavotte" and " Symphonia" by Bach; Patricia Timbers, Hilary Carnson, and Sue McCloud, woodwind trio.

" Tango" (Jealousy); Cape Dance; Ladisla Narvaez, dancer.

" Sonata in D Major" by Handel; " Adoration" by Borowski; June Canoles, violinist.

Ballet on " Air de Ballet" by Victor Herbert; Interpretation of C Minor Waltz by Chopin; Patty Ramsey, dancer.

Officers of the Musical Art Club are: Miss Angie Machado, president, Mrs. Robert Newby of Monterey, vice president, Mrs. Jeanie Mr. Klenke, treasurer, Colonel Philip Schneeberger, recording secretary, Miss Elizabeth Croftan, corresponding secretary.

FROM CHINA TO PENINSULA

Victor Drilea, recently returned from China where he was professor of voice at the National Conservatory of Music, Foochow, has opened a voice studio in Pacific Grove. While his educational background included both engineering and music and art, he gave up some years ago position as engineer with the General Electric Co. to devote his time to the latter fields.

Mr. Drilea believes voice teaching is one of the most neglected and misunderstood aspects of musical education. He has perfected a simple approach to teaching, as he thinks every educated person should be able to sing creditably. Mr. Drilea reports he is particularly interested in helping young, talented singers get their starts in life. He has studied voice both in Europe and the United States.

Mr. Drilea's wife is executive director of the Monterey Peninsula Girl Scout Association.

Discerning Discs

by Henry Dunakin

Patience must inevitably bring its own reward - and for those of us who have waited a number of years to get our hands on the recording of Schoenberg's " Gurre-Lieder" this is a great day. Yes, it has been repressed, is quite obtainable at the standard price. When this important set was released many years ago the music was still strange, lacked sales appeal, and was immediately discontinued from the Victor catalog. However, during the war years so-called modern music gained its natural foothold with the listening public, interest was stimulated toward this particular composer, and absolutely nothing was available on records to permit either study or enjoyment of his music.

When materials became more in abundance collectors from all over the world began a concentrated campaign for a re-issue of the " Gurre-Lieder." Clubs beyond number were formed for this purpose. Even the Saturday Review of Literature joined the growing army. And, at last, here it is. What a colassal score! It calls for augmented orchestra, soloists, three male choruses, and four conductors. The recording was made at an actual concert given in New York. Leopold Stokowski conducts the Philadelphia Orchestra, while the various choirs have their own leaders.

Emotional Intimacy

This music has an emotional intimacy that hardly bears description, and certain passages are, beyond question, some of the most beautiful in the modern repertoire. The love songs of Tove, sung by Jeannette Vreeland, are truly beautiful. Rose Bampton, as the Wood Dove, haunts the listener for days after each hearing. Benjamin de Loache, as the speaker of the melodrama, gives us a beautiful inception to Schoenberg's technique known as SPRECHSTIMME. The choral effects are well-captured, despite the antiquity of the set. Regardless of how one may have grown to feel about Stokowski, there is no successor to his interpretations of tonal eroticism. If you are unfamiliar with this major work, by all means give it a try. Repeated playings may be necessary and it cannot possibly by absorbed to any degree of satisfaction in a dealer's listening room. The monumental rage of the scoring demands much more volume than usual.

Maggie Teyte

Here's a new Maggie Teyte: " Souvenir Album" (London Album), a collection of songs on the lighter side. It hardly seems worth Miss Teyte's time to have expended her abilities on such trite nonsense that any other rather good vocalist could have done as well. It comes to mind that many peninsulites have dropped from the roster of this artist's admirers since her recital appearance here a couple of years ago. If these same people will open their ears to her new recording of Ravel's " Scherazade" (HMV) there will be no hesitance to admit that a great artist may lose a bit of the organic quality without ever once foregoing the basic and vital artistry.

Little Gem

A brilliant little gem stands forth on an isolated single disc, " Les Voleurs D'Enfants" and " La Toison D'Or." These are two poem operas by none other than Jean Cocteau, recited by the author as only he can! If you are in the least stimulated by the ultra-sophisticated, this record will have to be your own. Incidentally, the diction is very clear and the surfaces are completely free of crackles and extra noises.

GRANDMA MOSES

Grandma Moses, America's foremost primitive painter, explains one of her works in its relation to the Community Chest for a young audience.

Primitive Painting Will Be Seen Here

Carmel residents will have a chance to see a painting by Grandma Moses, noted American primitive painter, on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at Putnam & Raggetts. The painting was presented to the Community Chests of America, and is out on a loan basis to all member chests. Currently it may be seen at Holman's in Pacific Grove, while it will be displayed at Berquists in Monterey June 8 and 9.

Grandma Moses was born in 1860 on a farm near Greenwich, New York. There were no artistically inclined members in the family, with the exception of her father who, one winter when shut up with illness, wanted to renovate the house. As he had no wall paper, he painted murals with house paint on the walls of the living room.

Mrs. Moses has had no artistic training. In 1937, she followed the suggestion of her daughter to make needlework pictures because the hard work around the farm was getting too strenuous for her. Some of these pictures were exhibited at the Cambridge Fair, but it was Grandma's raspberry and strawberry jams for which she won a blue ribbon, while the picutres remained unnoticed. Soon afterwards she started to make pictures in oil, depicting her farm and village life, and gave them away as presents to friends and relatives.

Grandma Moses' first " exhibition" took place at a drugstore in Hoosick Falls, New York, in 1939 where a traveller, Mr. Louis J. Caldor, noticed the pictures and asked for the painters address. To his great surpirse he found her to be a seventy-nine year old friendly, lively farm lady. He brought her pictures to the attention of the Galerie St. Etienne where subsequently the first exhibition of her work was held in October 1940. Thousands of New Yorkers, thrilled with Grandma Moses' refreshing farm and village scenes, came to see the show which suddenly placed the old lady from the farm in the limelight of the New York art world.

Since then, Grandma Moses has become known as the outstanding representative of contemporary primitive painting. Her pictures have been seen in numerous exhibitions all over the country, and her work is owned by the foremost museums and private collections in the United States. Many newspapers and magazines have published the simple yet amazing story of Grandma Moses. Now 88 years old, she uses all her spare time to paint, after her household chores are done. The pictures of the last few years show that her progress and artistic development have been immense. Yet she has never departed from the simple and joyful conception of things which is reflected in every one of her paintings.

GRADUATION

Within the next few weeks thousands of high school and college students will go forth to take their place in a busy world. We don't believe there has been too much of a change in the old world since their Dad and Mother took the same step. There are many opportunities for these youth in the business and professional field. It's an exciting world but not a very happy one. It presents a challenge to them, and upon their shoulders will rest the responsibility of making it the sort of world it should be.

Every Day Is Courtesy Day

Automobiles lined up Ocean Avenue Sunday in bumper-to-bumper procession were the surest indication that the tourist season has really arrived. For the rest of the summer our weekends will be much the same, with visitors streaming into town to relax, look at the scenic views, soak up sunlight (we hope) on beaches, and visit shops, restaurants and hotels.

As residents, we would not be human if we didn't become irritated now and then at the crowded conditions during the summer. It certainly isn't a pleasure, if you live near the beach, to poke along in your automobile at five m.p.h. trying to get up the hill to wherever you are going.

But about a year ago a national magazine lauded us for our courtesy and hospitality to tourists. Let's live up to the publicity.

Businessmen in Carmel look for the tourist trade to keep their books in the black. In fact, because of the name-calling possibilities in "tourists," many merchants will not allow their sales people to use any other term than "visitors."

But Carmel residents, at least a good percentage of them, have certainly been in the position of being "tourists" or "visitors" themselves. The Golden Rule applies here, and a little courtesy doesn't cost anything.

Don't insult the tourists! One of them may be somebody's relative.

Bill Martin.

To have striven, to have made an effort, to have been true to certain ideals - this alone is worth the struggle.

Business Personalities

Harold Nielsen

Harold Nielsen, president of the Carmel Kiwanis Club, of the Carmel Unified School Board, past president of the Carmel Business Men's Association, and treasurer of the Carmel Red Cross, remembers:

When Dolores Street sidewalks were of boards...when lots on Ocean Avenue, in the village, sold for $200...when the original Golden Bough was built, and the excitement of the night it burned.

Mr. Nielsen and his brother Walter were born on a ranch in Nebraska. Their father, Niels Nielsen, born in Denmark, emigrated to the United States at the age of sixteen. In Chicago he met and married pretty Minnie Rasmussen, and the young couple, in whose viens the blood of Viking ancestors ran strong turned naturally to pioneering. They finally settled in Nebraska as ranchers, and it was there that Walter and Harold were born. Shortly afterward the family moved to Selma in the San Joaquin Valley where the boys attended school.

It was in 1924 that Harold and Walter came to Carmel. At a party in Burlingame, Harold met Miss Arline Basham, a school teacher of King City. It was love at first sight, and following a whirlwind courtship, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nielsen went to housekeeping in their home in Carmel Woods.

"For several years I was active in building," Mr. Nielsen said, "And I went into it from all angles working as a stone mason, a carpenter and finally as an interior decorator.

In 1931, Mr. and Mrs. Niels Nielsen came to live in Carmel.

"In 1932 my brother and I went into partnership and opened the store on Dolores street. The original store consisted of what is now the meat depr is now the meat department. It was in 1938 that we built the addition.

"Carmel has grown steadily through the years and, I feel, has a great future, but the traditions dear to everyone here will, I hope, never be lost sight of. We don't want a boom town, we want established, steady prosperity, and an even standard of living."

Mr. and Mrs. Neilsen have two children, Gary, twelve and Sharon, six years old, both students of Sunset School.

"I am now serving my second term as president of the School Board," he said, "I am convinced that we have a splendid system of education, giving our future citizens a sound and sane start toward civic responsibilities which will be theirs in the years ahead."

Several months ago the Nielsens moved from their home in Carmel Woods to their new home in the Mission Tract, designed by Mr. Nielsen.

Gardening and copper craft are his hobbies.

"I have just returned from the East," he concluded "and there is no spot comparable with Carmel...perhaps, from the angle of beauty you just might mention Washington, D.C."

Spur Action On VALLEY ROAD

Bill Woods, owner of The Lodge, Robles del Rio, was unanimously elected president of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association during a meeting last week in the residence of Miss Orre Haseltine. With plans for meetings once a month, members were asked to help spur action on improvement of the Carmel Valley road by going before the County Board of Supervisors in Salinas on Monday at 10 a.m.

Other officers elected during last week's meeting were Mrs. H.W. Ayres, first vice president; Gen. E.J. Dawley, treasurer, and Mrs. Alec Dobie, secretary. The board of directors includes Mrs. Frank Andrews, Marion Johnson, Lt. Cmdr. C.O. Ashley, Faunce Whitcomb, Kenneth Caldwell, Herman F. Fletcher and Grant Risdon.

HARRY VERNON DIXON SHORT STORY WIZARD

" I never walk the floor or tear my hair...No, I don't think my stories will live through the ages, I respect what I write, but I don't, as you might say, love it all better than life!"

Harry V. Dixon, native Californian, Carmel resident for the past three years, and one of the nation's top flight writers of short stories and popular fiction, is a bronzed broad shouldered young man who, as he puts it, has made a business of writing " what they want."

The Boy Ripley Wrote About

Born in Sacramento, young Harry grew up " in a suit-case." His father, a small manufacturer, toured the country selling his own product, and he found it more interesting (and economical) to take the family right along. So, before he was fourteen, Harry had attended 100 different schools and was an expert on time-tables. Even Ripley wrote about him!

The family returned to Sacramento in time for him to attend high school there. Harry graduated with honors, and, with musical feet!

The Dancer

There followed the gay, exciting, but none the less hard working years of show business. The team of Harry and Dorothy Dixon appeared in lights over the marquee of New York's famous Palace, Mecca of all vaudeville headliners. They were featured in George White's Scandals, and finally toured from ocean to ocean in their own revue, Palais Royale.

" My sister and I loved the theatre and we had a grand time. But on long train jumps, in hotels, before and after the performance, in fact any time I found at all possible, I spent in writing. It was while I was still a professional dancer that I wrote my first book, " Laughing Gods." It wasn't exactly a sensation, but it was a start, and tapping the typewriter became much more fascinating to me than tapping my toes."

Marriage

" It was about that time that the theatre came to its big slump.. Motion pictures had taken over.. My sister and I packed away our dancing shoes and settled in San Francisco. There I found and married Dorothy Moriarty. Funny thing, you know, Dorothy was just a scrap of a kid when, during my high school days in Sacramento, her big sister had been my best girl. But little sisters do blossom forth and when, in 1934, I met " Irish" (that's her pet name) a successful buyer for the Emporium, I found that she was irresistable, she still is!

" So the wedding bells rang, and I started writing short stories, serials and books."

The Author

" Just like that?" Mr. Dixon was asked. " Just like that" replied the author. " It is my personal opinion that writers are not created in schools, they're born. My first short story was titled " The Experimentor." C.C. Beale illustrated it. It was his first short story too, and Collier's bought it. Since then they've published dozens of my tales."

Mr. Dixon's production over the years runs well into the hundreds. Stories have appeared in Colliers, The Saturday Evening Post, Liberty, the Cosmopolitan and the American Magazine, to name a representative few. Several of his stories have been bought by Hollywood and adapted to the screen. " But I've never liked the adaptations," he said, " In fact most of the time I don't even recognize my brain children. If and when Hollywood wants another, it will be sold only on condition that I control the screen version."

Particularly adept in creating picturesque titles Dixon has authored catch phrases that have crossed the country. " Tennis Bum," " Fat Dumb and Happy," and " The Eager Beaver are all in the varsity slang books of the day.

It is interesting to note that writings of this self-styled " untutored" author are used as perfect examples of the contemporary short story in several universities and schools of creative writing.

During World War II Mr. Dixon was in the Office of War Information and was a writer of propaganda for the Royal Air Force. It was he who was responsible for the release of official war photographs, taken by Royal Air Force observers, of the bombings of Britain.

Technique...and Family Fun

" From six o'clock each morning until just past noon, if I have an idea, I write..My story, that is, its finish, is always clear in my mind before I sit down to the typewriter. I never re-write or " polish." My agents in San Francisco, New York and London get the stories and I get the checks."

" Irish, our son Bradley, age 14, our daughter Pamela, 11 years old, and I, all have a grand time. We've lived in Carmel for three years and we love it...tho' right now Mexico seems most alluring.. I don't know just where we'll be next.

" Something for Nothing," Mr. Dixon's next book, will be published soon by Harper's. " And" he concluded, " if you like Dixon, " Diver's Rights" will appear in " This Week" magazine supplement of the San Francisco Chronicle, any minute now...They're sending a photographer down to photograph me in a diver's suit! An idea that, because I've never met a mermaid!" by Carolyn Elstob.

ELECTED V. P. OF NATIONAL BOARD

Mrs. Helen Lengfeld of Pebble Beach, President of the California State American Women's Voluntary Services Board of Directors, has been elected a vice-president and ex-officio member of the executive committee of the national board. The elections were held at the national convention held in New York City last week. Mrs. Lengfeld attended the convention and hopes to arrive in Carmel in time to preside at the regular AWVS meeting tomorrow which will be held at the home of Mrs. William MacNamee, Sunridge Road, Del Monte Forest, the time 1:30 p.m.

Under the auspices of the Carl Cherry Foundation Mr. Henry Kersh will give a series of invitational Sunday evening dance recitals commencing this Sunday evening, in the home of Mrs. Carl Cherry at Guadelupe and 4th streets.

Mr. Kersh, who has been identified for the past three years with the Ojai Players will present 5 improvisations, including: Corelli's " La Folia"; Arensky's variation on a theme of Tschaisky; Three Hebrew Chants by Ravel; Gregorian Chant by the Monks' Chour of Solesmes, and the Third Movement of Brahms' Third Symphony.

The dancer, who is an advocate of free technique is at present a guest teacher with the Dorothy Dean School of Dancing.

FESTIVAL AT THEATER

Sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula UNESCO committee, Madelynne Greene's Festival Workshop of San Francisco International Dancers will present two programs at the Forest Theatre this weekend. Saturday at 8:15 p.m. and Sunday at 2:15 p.m.

Festival dances representing 15 different countries will be given, with a spectacular finale prepared especially for Carmel.

This will be a return engagement for Miss Greene's group, which appeared at Sunset Auditorium in January before a capacity audience.

A non-profit organization, formed five years ago, the Workshop Dancers are for the most part college students or advanced students of the dance.

Following Saturday night's performance there will be a reception for the dancers at the Carmel Art Association Galleries. Miss Irene Alexander and Miss Marion Todd are in charge of the sale of tickets; Maxine Albro in charge of decorations; Mr. Calvin C. Cope of Monterey Peninsula College is general chairman of UNESCO on the Monterey Peninsula. The Carmel Folk Dancing Group will be hosts for the two evenings.

TWO GALA EVENINGS FOR YOUNGER SET

Buttons and bows, frills and flounces will be in evidence tomorrow and Saturday evenings when more than 150 sub-teen and teen-agers will dance in the Sky Room of the San Carlos Hotel. The two evenings will be given over to the Monterey Peninsula Junior Assemblies:

Tomorrow (Friday) evening, the sub-teeners, some seventy-five will dance from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. The group has been meeting informally twice each month and receiving instruction in ball room dancing under the direction of Dorothy Dean.

While Saturday evening's party will not be strictly formal so far as the young gallants are concerned the girls will don their prettiest party dresses, there will be programs, and music by Dick Duane's orchestra. Eight o'clock is set for the first dance, with "Good-night Ladies" scheduled for 11 o'clock.

Invitations are out for a dinner party to be given in advance of the Saturday evening Assembly, in the Victorian Room of Pine Inn by Mrs. Chester Hare for her daughter Miss Gay Masten. On the list are the Misses. Nancy Veit, Carlene Daniels, Sharon Buckner, Gray Burnham, Carol Byers and Elizabeth Beall; Messers. Skipper Lloyd, John Stewart, Bill Gorham, Bob Campbell, Mike Elliot, Jack Frost, Peter Hatton and Stephen Chapman.

Directors of the Junior Assemblies are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Beall, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fratessa, Dr. and Mrs. A. Carol McKenney, Mr. and Mrs. C. Pierce Parsons and Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Stewart.

Patrons and patronesses include: Mr. and Mrs. Beall, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bunn, Mr. and Mrs. Fratessa, Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Frost, Dr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Gorham, Dr. and Mrs. John H. Gratiot, Col. and Mrs. William Irvine, Dr. and Mrs. Harry R. Lusignan; Dr. and Mrs. McKenney, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. John O. Tostevin and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Veit.

More than 250 High School students from all parts of California, their friends, and members of the Carmel Art Association attended the reception in the Association Galleries, last Sunday afternoon. The tea climaxed the High School Art Festival held last week-end, in the Carmel Art Association Galleries. L. to R. Miss Jo-Evelyn Albee, Miss Marcia Daneiz, Mrs. Nellie Montague, curator of the Carmel Art Association Galleries, Mrs. Leslie Emery, seated, and Mrs. Stewart Mitchell.

Social Date Book Jottings

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Z. Hawkins, of Reno, will be the week-end guests of the H.W. Toulmins in their historic Monterey adobe home. Mr. Hawkins this announced the engagement of her daughter, Katherine O'Brien, to Fritz Grau, Jr., of San Francisco. The visitors will be widely entertained during their stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Parrot will journey to Santa Barbara for the wedding of Sylvie Bryce.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osborne plan to leave Pebble Beach the first of June for a few weeks in the east, and will visit briefly with Richard's parents - Mr. and Mrs. Lithgow Osborne in Auburn, N.Y.

Friends of Mrs. William May Garland have just learned that the prominent Southern California matron has suffered a serious fall while visiting in New York, and has been hospitalized there for an indefinite period, which will no doubt change her plans to spend the summer in her lovely Pebble Beach home.

Mrs. Garland's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Garland, who make their home in San Marino, are expected to return home soon from a European trip.

The Rev. Alfred B. Seccombe and Mrs. Seccombe are entertaining Mr. Seccombe's brother, William Tyson Seccombe who has just arrived from Tokio where he was a civilian employee of the US Army of Occupation.

Allison (Mrs. James Solt) has just completed a portrait of Patsy Ramsey, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Ramsey of Pacific Grove. Patsy, who is concentrating on a professional dancing career, is an advanced student of Dorothy Dean's and an assistant for several of her children's classes. She is shown in a classic dancing pose. Nancy's portrait, and also one of tiny Suzanne Bellvail by the same artist, are on show at the Artists' Palette.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Macmillan Kerr entertained Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Abrahams and their two daughters Elise and Fay from Berkeley over the week-end. Peggy and Penelope, home from the University of California were assistant hostesses.

Mrs. Vera Peck Millis opened her lovely Carmel Valley home to some sixty members of the All Saints Church Auxiliary last Wednesday for an all day picnic.

Col. and Mrs. J.T. McNeill had as their house-guests last week-end, Mr. and Mrs. James T. McNeill, Jr., from Berkeley.

Mrs. A.A. Greene of Inspiration Point has returned from a trip to Atlanta, Georgia.

2030 FREMONT EXTENSION MONTEREY

If you arise at the crack of dawn in dire need of the breakfast mother used to whip up you'll go for the Carmel Delicatessen. Its the spot for early birds and off hour appetites, home cooked fare, quick-as-a-whistle service...Table or counter service at Cooksley's goes on all day where the special plate luncheons are lovingly prepared and the widely varied dinner menu offers a feast at a price..No visitor can afford to miss Carmel's oldest restaurant, the Blue Bird, where they specialize in simply divine fruit tarts (the real French ereme custard base variety) made to order the pastry is rich and crisp..Lunch or dinner on the patio is the special appeal of the Normandy..all the world strolls by, and the food is delicious...Even if you are not a registered guest you will receive a hopsitable welcome in the La Playa Hotel Dining Room, and you will never forget the magnificent sea view. Incidentally, it is the Mayor's own hotel and one of the show places of Carmel...For old Monterey atmosphere, we recommend the Mission Inn where, above all things be sure and try the stuffed avacado salad with Louis dressing, high in calories, of course, but you won't give a darn after the first fork full. The Inn's Estrada Room, Cocktail Lounge and Dining Room are all chuck full of atmosphere and really fine antiques...The grandest French fried prawns we've ever eaten, preceded by cocktails in the oh-so intimate bar, are at Whitney's, where Wibby is the m.c. at luncheon and dinner. Fashion Shows are featured at the luncheon hour every Wednesday in the Pine Inn Garden Restaurant. Clothes for the Peninsula scene are featured on perfectly bee-utiful models, and the commentator gives you all the inside information on where and how much. Enchiladas such as you've never had in your life will lure you again to Su Vecino opposite the Post Office. Here really grand Mexican dishes prepared by a native of Mexico City are served in delightfully colorful surroundings. Your spirits will soar even before the cocktail in the Hoot Mon Bar of Highlands Inn. In the dining room the Scotch is strictly a matter of draperies, but elegant! And 250 feet in the air, you will see the surf!

Dancing five nights a week, hilarious hobby horse races, Community singing are fun-fare at the Mission Ranch, good food, grand bar....They invite you to view the newest of modern kitchens at the Casa Munras in Monterey where every night but Monday, Danny Danziger's music 'gives' for dancing. Food and decor are tops. It is well worth the ride through our beautiful Valley to be in the swim of things at Michel au Carousel. Superb cuisine, Michel's incomparable repartee, in gay surroundings. Favorite spot of the Peninsula's elite.

PENINSULA PETS

by Shane Ryan

Approximately 1600 homeless cats and kittens, and 700 dogs and puppies were destroyed on the Peninsula last year.

The Peninsula is an animal loving community which makes these figures seem rather shocking.

In an effort to do something about this problem Peninsula Pets has been organized by Miss Bess Prewett and this writer. We hope to reduce the number of births by means of a fund to aid owners in spaying their female cats and dogs. Kittens come in litters three and sometiems four times a year, puppies, twice. If the mother cat is spayed when the kittens are six or seven weeks old, another litter will be avoided. A safe rule for mother dogs is a month after the puppies are weaned.

Since spaying is expensive and often cannot be managed by cat or dog owners, Peninsula Pets has arranged with the local veterinaries to subsidize their fee over and above a charge of $3.00 to be paid by the owner of the animal. In other words, you may have your female cat or dog spayed for $3.00 and Peninsula Pets will pay the balance. And you may take your animal to any veterinary you wish. This, we hope, will greatly reduce the number of homeless animals and help relieve the minds of many kind-hearted persons who make a practice of feeding the little strays but cannot take them in and give them homes.

To those who would like to take a female kitten or puppy but hesitate because of family increases we can assure you that if you get the date of the little one's birth, Peninsula Pets will make this special rate possible to you for spaying when the proper time comes. Females make very satisfactory pets. They are affectionate and much less apt to stray away from home.

Some cat owners fear to have their pets spayed because of age. Age makes no difference. A cat may be spayed without injury at any age and unless there are other complications the operation is not harmful. Often it improves the animal's disposition. And when you take your cat to the veterinary be sure to carry it in a safe container. Cats are apt to become frightened at the movement of a car and jump out and become lost.

Peninsula Pets found homes for several kittens last week but many more have been listed with us. So if the time is right for your animal to be spayed or if you have kittens or puppies who need homes or if you want to take a kitten or puppy into your home call 315-J. If your pet is lost The Spectator will run an advertisement for you free of charge.

Contributions to Peninsula Pets fund have been most gratifying. So many people were glad to give money to ease a situation which they found distressing but did not know what could be done about it. Others gave money in the names of their own cherished pets. We will be grateful for all the financial help we can get. Send contributions to Peninsula Pets, Box 2437, Carmel.

The desire to take medicine is perhaps the greatest feature which distinguishes man from animals.

TO OPEN HIGH SCHOOL SWIM CENTER JUNE 12 - - MAYBE

The Carmel High School swimming pool, according to the contractor, will probably be ready for swimming prior to June 12, and that date has been set aside tentatively for a grand opening, it was made known during a special meeting last week of the board of trustees of Carmel Unified School District.

The board also canvassed the returns on the school board election. As noted previously, J.O. Handley won with a total of 560 votes against 323 for Dr. William F. Coughlin. There was one write-in vote cast for John M. Dickinson, and 10 ballots were either spoiled or blank.

Ted Kuster, whose playhouse was destroyed in the recent fire, attended the meeting to ask the board's permission to run motion pictures in the Sunset School Auditorium for seven weeks, starting after the Bach Festival, which ends July 25. The auditorium is wired for such use, he pointed out, and he plans to show motion pictures that have been in strong demand in Carmel. A partial list would include, "Red Shoes," "Hamlet," and "Edward, My Son." No official decision was reached by the board, but indications were that Mr. Kuster's request will be granted.

The board also approved the employment next year of Miss Terry Milstead, primary teacher, and Gerome J. Castagnetto, art teacher. Also up for discussion was the need for a school bus, which Stuart Mitchell, school district superintendent, said would cost about $12,000, payable over a period of five years. Board members, Mrs. Martha Moller, Mrs. Anita Dormody and Mr. Handley discussed the possibility of using some type of taxi service for transportation of students.

Approval was sought by Mr. Mitchell and approved by the board for changing the lower panes of glass in the new Dolores Street School to double strength in class rooms. It was noted that the glass already installed might endanger the safety of the children because of its relative weakness.

New Red Cross Officers

Matthew C. Jenkins was elected chairman of the Carmel Chapter, American Red Cross, during last week's annual meeting, at which time reports of officers and service chairmen were given.

Other officers are to be appointed by Mr. Jenkins from the executive committee, which includes Mrs. Kent Parrot, Miss Helen Heavey, Frank Putnam, and Paul Whitman. New members of the board of directors are Mrs. Thomas Bunn, Mrs. Howard F. Murphy, Mrs. Carroll McKenny, Miss Marjorie Pegram, Mrs. Betty Carr, Louis Allaire, Miss Olga Taylor, Mrs. Lewis H. Leve, Mrs. George Hart, Mrs. Hampden Stewart, Mrs. Elizabeth Montgomery and Miss Ruth Radcliffe.

After annual reports by Miss Kathryn Bier, secretary, and Harold Nielsen, treasurer, the following service chairmen went over the year's activities:

Mr. Whitman, Fred Mylar, Joseph Hudder, Mrs. Edwin Tucker, B. Franklin Dixon, Mrs. Rush R. Wallace, Alfred Fry, Mrs. John W. Dickinson, Mrs. Isabelle Terhune, Mrs. Frances Foraker, and Mrs. Walter Scott.

Miss Bier was appointed voting delegate to the Atlantic City National Red Cross Convention, June 27-30. Miss Elizabeth Fogel, executive secretary of the local chapter, reported that $3,588.89 was spent for home service last year. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Ernest Morehouse.

No bubble is so iridescent or floats longer than that blown by the successful teacher.

Fish - Traffic

Dr. and Mrs. G. Ridgley Parker and young Gordon spent the weekend fishing at Garberville, but that is only part of the story. "The traffic was but terrific - eight hours hard driving to get there, twelve hours to get back, and the fish were in second gear too," Mrs. Parker told us.

AROUND the CAMPUS

by Robert Aurner, Jr.

The recent national elections have nothing on the MPC elections for student body president. The voting last Wednesday resulted in a dead heat between Carmel's George Wendt and Monterey's Phil Mirabelli, both candidates for the office. Voted in, however, was the vice president on the Mirabelli ticket, who, in the run-off, logically drew enough votes to Mirabelli to elect him over George Wendt. So the officers for next year are: Phil Mirabelli, student body president; Sal Solis, vice-president; Beverly Dowgiallo, secretary; Bob Littlefield, treasurer; Ben Mack, athletic commissioner.

Finals

The much dreaded final exams will begin Friday, continuing until Thursday, June 9. Following exams will come the long awaited GRADUATION. There are 35 students getting their sheepskins this year with all the pomp and ceremony of a 10 year old college. Speakers will include Calvin C. Flint, director of the college; Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, minister, Church of the Wayfarer; Dr. Robert E. Burns, president of the College of the Pacific, as main speaker; Mr. Glen T. Goodwill, superintendent of Monterey School system; and Dr. Arnold Manor, board of education chairman, who will read the names of the graduates. This graduation promises to be something that the Peninsula will remember as only the beginning of the influence of higher education upon the area.

Radio

After a slow start during the first semester, Radio MPC built itself up to a respectable position in the field, presenting all types of programs. The energy behind the radio presentations over KDON was Mr. Mel Huden, dean of the department of journalism, and director of the radio department. This gentleman has given his time and energy to the students to help them better understand the ins and outs of radio. With his knowledge helping us at every turn, we have successfully completed a year of broadcasting under Mr. Mel Huden, lawyer, teacher, speaker, and radio announcer par excellence. It has been a pleasure working for him.

Sports

Well, MPC has a new coach. Jim Tidwell, newly-appointed mentor at MPC, will take over the coaching reins at the college in July. Jim Tidwell, succeeding Dan Dillon, who has become athletic director, stated that he will use three formations this fall - the T-formation, the single wing, and the short punt formation. It has been said recently to the future football foes of MPC, "You might as well beat Monterey while you can, because it won't be long before they'll be beating you!" If anyone can do it, Jim Tidwell can.

SENIOR SCOUTS TO TAKE SIX-DAY HIKE INTO SANTA LUCIA RANGE

Senior scouts and authorized adults of the Monterey bay area Boy Scout Council have been invited to participate with Santa Cruz Optimist Club Senior Scout explorer post 17 in a 6 day expedition and pack trip into the Santa Lucia mountains, July 10 to 16, inclusive. Santa Cruz senior scouts will act as hosts and make all arrangements, and other senior units in the counties of Monterey, San Benito, and Santa Cruz will accompany the group, according to John Needham, leader of explorer post 17, and G.W. Buffery, executive staff member, counselor for the trek.

On July 10 the various senior units will rendezvous above Notley's Landing at the mouth of the Palo Colorado Canyon, and on the following days will hike to new Boy Scout camp on north fork of Little Sur, Rattlesnake Creek, Ventana, Carmel River, Pine Valley, Barlow Flats, Terrace Creek, and Pfeiffer's redwood state park, returning home on July 16. Fishing, scoutcraft, campcraft, and aquatics will be featured during the trip.

Each senior unit will be organized into crews of not more than eight senior scouts and there must be one or more adult leaders for each group of eight. There will be no cost to individuals except for their food and expendable program items. Physical examinations by a medical doctor is required for each scout and adult leader, which must be made before departure from home. Application to take part must be made in advance by each senior unit through Boy Scout Council office at Salinas.

FORT ORD

One hundred ninety-two members of the Officers' Reserve Corps are expected to arrive at Fort Ord early in June to begin summer training.

The officers will report to Fort Ord from the 6th Army area for temporary duty of from 30 to 90 days. The temporary quota assigned to Fort Ord includes three colonels, 15 lieutenant colonels, 24 majors and 150 company grade officers.

RECEIVE CASH FOR IDEAS

Five Ft. Ord civilian employees from Monterey, Pacific Grove, Salinas and Watsonville, received cash awards last week for their money saving suggestions in the regular civilian suggestion campaign held at the post.

Frank B. W. Ernst, civilian fire chief, of Kimball Ave., Monterey, received an award of $70. for his suggestion that all soda and acid fire extinguishers be discarded in favor of water filler pump-type extinguishers.

An award of $13. was presented to Frank L. Zambzuske, 22, Portola St., Monterey, an auto body and fender repairman, for his invention. He designed a tool for removing inside door handles and window regulators in automobiles without damage to upholstery.

Mrs. Vera D. Profitt, of 687 Mermaid Ave., Pacific Grove, won $10. for her suggestion for placing heavy rubber matting on the floor of the Post Quartermaster Laundry to prevent fatique and illness of employees who spend long hours on their feet on the concrete flooring.

Two auto painters, Edward Freitas, 126 Delores St., Salinas, and John Ashford, Rt. 1, Box 655, Watsonville, shared an award of $10. for their joint suggestion of installing a safety hook to prevent a heavy block and tackle hoist from swinging and causing injury.

All the awards are made on a percentage basis of the estimated total amount saved by the Government during the year, as a result of the civilian employee suggestions.

King & Queen To Rule Fiesta

The gay program for the Fiesta De Los Amigos June 5, under the leadership of Chairman Larry Moore will open with the selection of a Queen Amiga to reign over the Fiesta and King Amigo who will be selected from among the bearded gentlemen present.

Two orchestras will play at the Fiesta. The earlier part of the program will be handled by Marty y sus Vaqueros. A Musical Comedy Western will be handled by Herb Jensen, Jim Hadley and Wayne Anderson.

The Folk Dance Group under the direction of Ladisla Narvaez, well known dance teacher in Carmel Valley includes: Luis and Russell Wolter, Lee Quintana, Rafael Narvaez and Carolyn Frisbee. Barbara Brookshire and Sidney Tice will present a speciality number.

Musical interludes will be supplied by Shirley Helwig, young violinist, Herb Jensen, banjo virtuoso, formerly an Orpheum circuit vaudeville headliner, Jim Hadley, guitarist, Henry McCleod, Holt Wood and Art Schumacher.

Moments of comedy will be presented through the courtesy of Joe Hitchcock, Joe Kuello, George De Amaral, Howard Bjorkman, Marge Jensen, Ruth McElroy, and Billie Moore.

A satire on Western Movies will star Mrs. Ruben Tice as One-Shot Sal, and co-star Faunce Whitcomb, Cass Parsons, Ralph Stean, Joe Kuello, Jimmie Tadlock and a gorgeous chorus including: Jo Ann Smith, Pat and Tommy Ford, and Cassie Parsons.

The program concludes with the singing of a group of western songs by John Burr, well known baritone.

It is rumored that the Judges of the Queen Amiga contest already have their eyes on Wilma Tice, Carolyn Frisbee, the Storm girls, Jean Wisley, Sally Wilson, and Sharon Jones.

For the King contest only three major beards have been spotted in the Valley at this writing, those sported by Sid Williams, Franklyn Pompper, and Grant Risdon, but the judges state that the quality of the beard counts as much as the quanity.

The Fiesta Queen will assist in choosing the King.

All Fiesta tickets have been sold. Due to popular demand the Carmel Valley Inn will sponsor an additional Fiesta Barbecue. Those attending the Inn Barbecue will be given tickets to the Fiesta program. If you wish to attend, call the Inn for reservations.

Del Monte Expansion In Progress

Proceeds from the sale of the Hotel Del Monte, in addition to a "substantial amount" of money, will be reinvested in the Peninsula region, according to officials of the Del Monte Properties Co.

A new, modern laundry is just starting into operation near Pacific Grove, with a total investment in equipment and building of approximately $250,000. A new "arcade building" will probably be completed in September opposite the Lodge at Pebble Beach. This building will house the company offices on the second floor and will have a variety of shops on the first floor, including:

A gift store, women's dress shop, men's store, barber shop, beauty parlor, liquor store and "gourmet" shop, photographer's plant, art store and a general store, which will house a soda fountain as well as candies and specialities section. The old tin building where the post office is now housed will be removed to provide space for a parking lot. When the development is completed it will be possible for patrons of the parking lot to walk down steps to the "arcade," past the shops, and across the road to the Lodge completely under cover - thus, the name "arcade building."

Ready for occupancy during the first part of July will be three new buildings on the ocean side of the Lodge. The two-story buildings will house "room-and-one-half" bedrooms.

The Beach Club is being done over. A modern kitchen is being installed, and a dining room capable of handling up to 150 persons for dinner-dancing. An additional cottage is now on the planners' table for Cottage Row.

More than one million dollars will be put into a new shopping center near Monterey just off Munras Avenue in what is generally termed the Capitol Site. Plans are now being drafted for construction of buildings to house 25 to 30 stores.

KITCHEN CAPERS
NICK LOVELACE

Everywhere smart cooks and socialites are seeking information into the intriguing use of the various kinds of culinary herbs, which makes European cooking such an art. This long lost lore of a dash of this and a dash of that is really the secret that makes for a successful, much talked of dish. With a little thought and a little experimentation, variety can easily be added to many jaded menus. Meat, fish, and salad are ordinary staples in an every day menu, but they can be made exceptional by subtle combinations with a touch of basil, or a touch of tarragon, or a mixture of stuffing herbs.

At the present moment, our desire for something novel, something different has made the search lead us to the past. And the vegetable world is man's natural food. To perform what seems practically a miracle sometimes, to excite dull appetites, we must know how to use these various culinary herbs. But don't be timid about experimenting. Everyone gets so tired of monotonous food flavors with salt, pepper, or cinnamon. Therefore, herewith is a brief chart which will lead you into new worlds of culinary achievements.

Thus wrote Gervase Markham in 1615 in his "English Housewife." "The housewife must have knowledge of all sorts of herbs belonging unto the kitchen; whether they be for the pot, for sallets, for sauces, for servings, or for any other seasoning or adorning, which skill of knowledge of herbs, she must get by her own labour and experience."

Herbal Culinary Hints

Bouquet Garni - A recipe calling for a bouquet garni means that soup or stew shall be flavored with a combination of herbs but only the flavour should appear in the finished dish. This is accomplished by tying the herbs in small cheese cloth bags, and should be cooked in the liquid either for the whole or part of the process depending upon what strength is desired. The bag is then removed. Our mixed herbs can be used for a bouquet garni, or if a particular flavor is desired a combination of basil, thyme, savoury, and marjoram can be combined.

Fine Herbs - In a recipe calling for fine herbs, finely chopped herbs are added directly to the food so that they will be scattered throughout the finished dish. This applies to roast meats, chopped meats, omelettes, sauces, aspics, and salads.

Butter sauce - for fish or meat - Allow the herbs to steep first for some time in the melted butter before combining with the particular dish desired.

Mayonnaise or French Dressing - Fine flecked herbs should be first moistened in hot water and allowed to stand for a short while, then mixed into the dressing. Add the oil last.

Meats or Fish - Herbs should be sprinkled over dry before roasting. Also should be used dry in chopped meats.

Fruit dishes, salads, sauces and egg dishes - Moisten herbs first in hot water. Allow to stand short time before adding. In all cases where herbs are not being cooked, it is safe to moisten them first in hot water, and allowed to steep for one-half hour before using. When experimenting, or where recipes call for a pinch, the quantity required is about one-quarter of a teaspoon.

Del Monte Cricket Club

The Del Monte Cricket Club will have its first home game in the regular league schedule on Sunday, when they entertain the San Francisco Peninsula Cricket Club at Carmel High School, starting at 1 p.m. It is hoped that all members of the club will attend, and any others interested will be welcome. The usual Thursday evening practice will be held at Carmel today.
